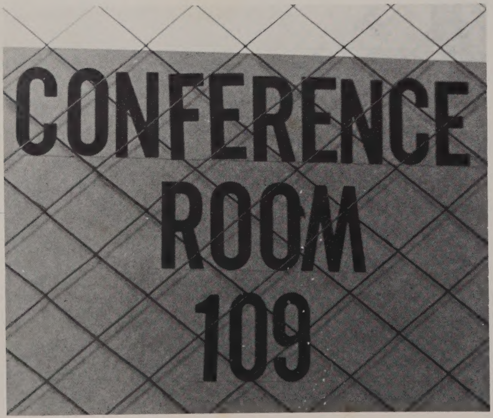
A School Of New Design

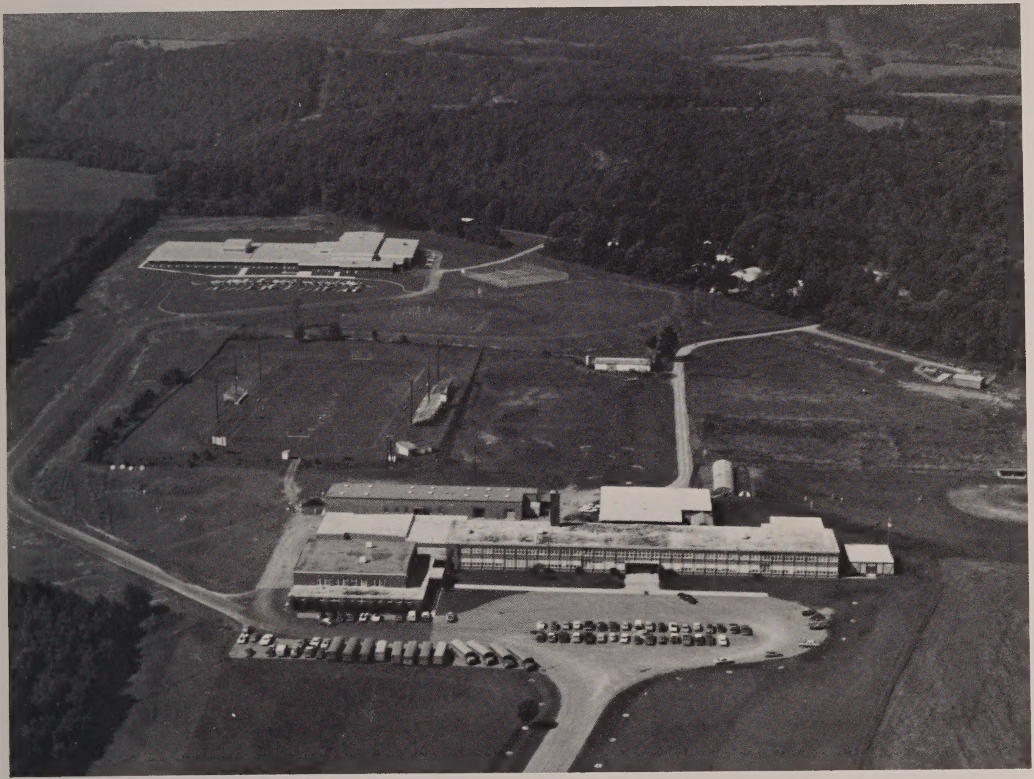


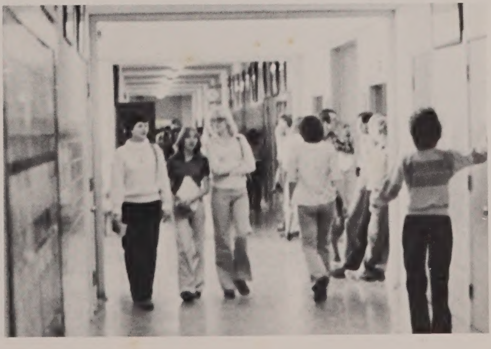
CONFERENCE
ROOM
109

As a bright new quilt is crafted from an older, more faded and thread-bare one, so Northern Middle is trimmed out of the lofty halls of our junior-senior high.

Along with this transformation comes a new atmosphere which is unfamiliar to the usual school life experienced by students, faculty, parents, and community.

As a result of this shrinkage faculty size is cut, halls are less crowded and extra classrooms are formed into a student conference room and a teacher work room . . . and so the changes at Northern continue.





The Major Changes Begin

The changes grow from small to large. Two bus shifts are created for the convenience of loading at both schools at the same time. The extra classrooms provided by the annexes are no longer needed, resulting in their removal, foundation and all.

September

Spectators wait for ''their'' price at the band's first auction.

September introduces a brand new school year. Minds get back on the right track after the summer vacation. Each grade has something new to look forward to in the school year. Seniors start ordering various ''necessities'' for their senior year, Juniors encounter the excitement of receiving class rings, Sophomores begin fund raising activities, and the Freshman are just beginning to get into the hang of High School life. The halls are less crowded this year because of the new middle school. Many changes are taking place in our building as well as in our minds. The everyday routine of the school year has now taken over and the opening month of school holds hopes and promises for the months to come.

New School Year Brings New Ideas!

Ringing in the new year, Carol Wengerd, Pres., Randy Glotfelty, V. Pres., Lori Taylor, Sec., and Mary Sebold, Treas. are being installed as 1978-79 Student Council Officers.

Excitement Starts In September

Your Class Ring is Here! Pick it Up on:

The annual posters are hung in the halls to announce the arrival of Juniors' class rings.

Waiting anxiously, Renatta Yoder is about to receive her class ring.

Peppy and persistant, Brenda Sisler attempts new selling techniques for selling pom pons for the Drill Team during lunch shifts.

The Home Ec. Department broadens knowledge on maintenance of sewing machines with Jane Rencshler telling how.

October

The Autumn Glory court includes Lisa Clutter, 10th grade princess; Cathy Renner, 12th grade princess; Sherry Griffith, Maid of Honor; and Donna VanSickle, 11th grade princess.

Keeping busy, Carol Edgar colors in the magazine campaign posters as a part of her job as co-manager.

The month of October brings a variety of activities new and old. Students reach their highest selling goal yet by selling $12,321.82 worth of magazines for the magazine campaign. Four girls and their escorts are members of the Queen's Court during a drizzling Autumn Glory weekend. New clubs are formed such as Pep Club, Artistic Typing, and Reading Class. A high-spirited bonfire pep rally is held prior to the Homecoming game. After the game is the Homecoming Dance. This colorful month introduces football season as well as Girls Volleyball. Students begin various activities as they are once again into the daily routine of school life.

Tired and restless, the band waits their turn on Band Day at Morgantown, W.Va.

Homecoming Week

The bonfire kissing skit surprises Greg Brenneman, Tom VanSickle, Brad DeWitt, and Larry Edgar.

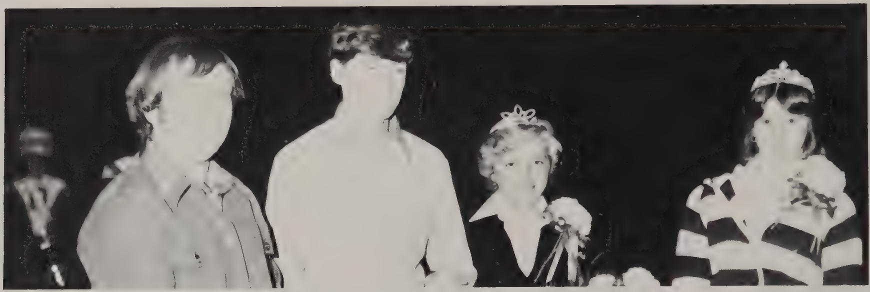
"Homecoming Dance"

Crazy hat day reveals new identities and laughter as Richard Broadwater and Hillel Brandes discuss the upcoming game.

Creativity shows through when Debbie Bowman and Nancy Rush, among other students, show spirit on ''Rags and Riches Day.''

Taking part in school spirit, Arlene Guard and Kathy Warnick model their ''rags'' and ''riches''.



Glowing with excitement, Lori Taylor, escorted by Jeff Kamp, is crowned queen by Harvey Speicher; and Tammi Glisan presents Lori with a bouquet of Mums.

Homecoming

Homecoming week is full of surprises for the student at Northern. The week starts out with a Crazy Hat Day followed by a Rags or Riches Day. Wednesday brings a new activity to Northern, a Bonfire Pep Rally. Finally, the annual football game and coronation of the queen takes place Friday night. Following the game the Varsity Cheerleaders sponsor a dance featuring "Songbook."

November

Autumn Activities Are In Full Bloom

The month of November brings falling temperatures and snow flakes, as well as the end of football season. Thanksgiving is celebrated with a short vacation for students and faculty. The end of the grading period falls in November, and students receive their first report card of the year. Student Council conducts various activities for students and parents. Annual activities also take place such as the senior party and the Northern vs. Southern football game. November brings cold weather but warm smiles and friendships to Northern.

Orderly and enthusiastic, the band performs at halftime for the Northern-Southern game.

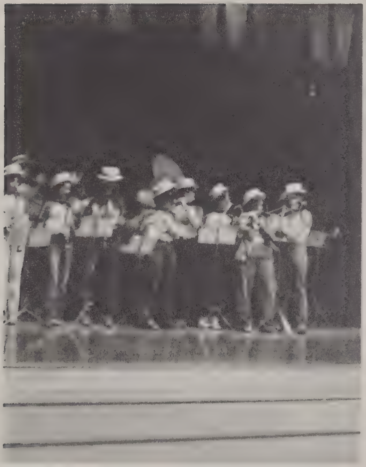
Students Take Part In Old And New Traditions



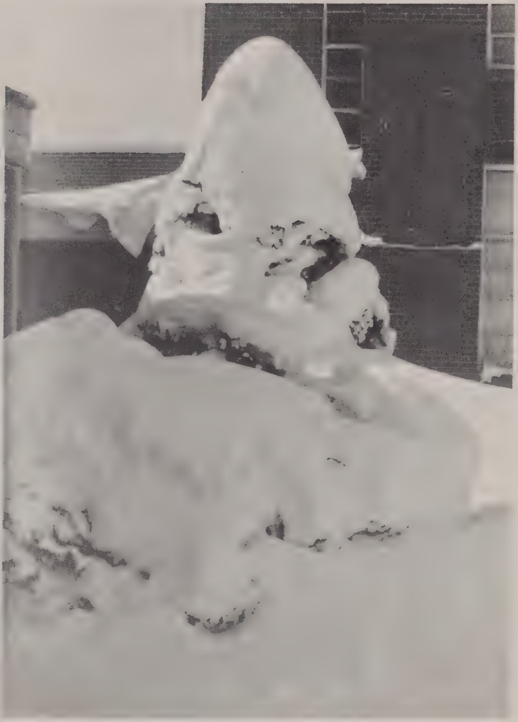
During Parent and Student night the Pep Band performs.

An expression is worth a thousand words as Debbie Bowman, Ken Bowman, and Linda Bittinger receive their report sheets.

As a tradition the band plays as the flag is raised on Veterans Day.

December

The annual Christmas wreath is hung upon the building during the holiday season.



A giant snowcone stands on the school lawn after a downpour of snow.

Skiing, sledding, and snowmobiling are among the winter sports which the library advertises, helping everyone "Think Snow."

SKIING

The chill is in the air as December approaches. Christmas spirit is everywhere, and snow blankets Garrett County on Christmas Eve. Activities are abundant this month as the band and chorus have their annual Christmas Concert. Decorations are strung in classrooms and cheery faces join in the festivities of the holiday season.

School Activities Keep Students Busy

''Do I look all right?'' asks Bill Bender. Reassuring him, Jeff Kamp tells Bill his hose aren't sagging.

A new fad hits Northern as Joel Morris nodels his new dress.

At their bi-weekly meeting the Student Council discusses some new business.

January Winter Sports In Full Swing

Brrrrr! January once again shakes hands with winter, her cold and numb fingers barely feeling the warmth of the sun. The winds wail, the snow falls, and drifts accumulate to reach high peaks. Road tops turn to sheets of glittering ice. Cars and buses slide and swerve to avoid collisions with other vehicles and to escape the ''fenderbending'' of a snow bank. Businesses close early, truckers park their rigs as they pass through Garrett County, school is called off, and televisions sets are clicked on to relieve the boredom of students.

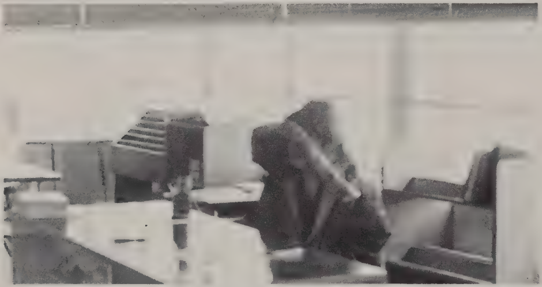
GO! '78-'79

Displayed in the showcase are the new baseball uniforms.

Hidden behind a giant snow drift, Northern takes a peek out to see what going on.

Camera shy? No, just a bad case of no heat in school. Snowy conditions cause a temporary blackout.



Absence of Jr. High students permits a lot more room for lunch.

Class changes bring Miss Rettel out among the students.

February The Month For Queens

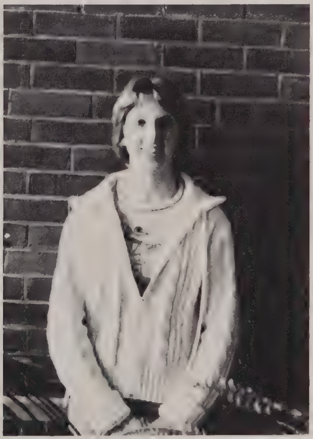
All smiles, Sherry Griffith, 1979 Snowball Queen, stands proudly beside Phil Workman, the Snowball King.

Eleventh grade princess, Judi Basshore, is selected as another honored Snowball Court member.

Tenth gradevotes for Lisa Kissner as their Snowball Princess.



Snowball Princess, Donna Ringer, is chosen from ninth grade.

The Snowball Dance has become an annual event. The Lettermen's Club sponsors it to raise money to buy Lettermen Jackets. To make it more exciting a King and Queen are chosen and a Princess from each grade. The nominees are voted on by the student body, and the winners are announced at the dance. In the past years the dance has been a great success, and hopefully the future holds the same.

Kim Frantz Reigns Over Heart Fund Activities

Reigning as Heart Fund Queen, Kim Frantz collects $200, and reigning King is R.T. Wengerd, collecting $45.

Patiently counting penny by penny, Laurie Springman anticipates a fine total.

Supporting Tammy Thomas, Mike Friend adds to the collection for the Heart Fund. Chosen by their classmates, forty-eight students participate in the collection drive.

February Brings Cheer To The Year

Imprisoned in snow, Northern fights the elements.

An Antrim Bureau show entertains students with song.

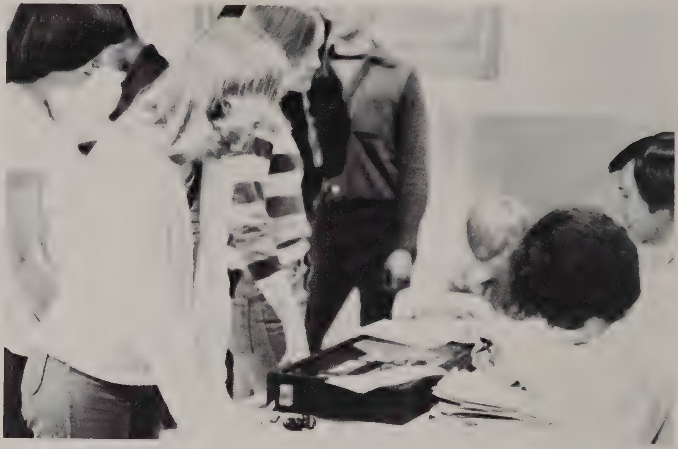
March Points To Big Happenings

''Leapin' Leprechauns, tis March already!'' Shamrocks and pots of gold are appearing and disappearing everywhere. Green seems to be the appropriate color to wear, and the grass brings green back to life. Activities keep students busy as spring is just around the corner. Daffodils and dandelions are filling yards with color, while the west winds keep kites high in the sky. Spirits are lifted as the spring air replaces the bitter chill of winter.



The expense of being a sophomore begins as Pam Sines waits to order her class ring.

Seeing which field he is best suited for, Tim Kinsinger takes the ASVAB Test.

''Be a model or just look like one,'' say Phil Workman and Sam Huff as they model new Lettermen's jackets.

Tall, Terrific, And Talented Territory

"Listen to the music!" "The Social Circle" performs at the talent show to Saturday Night Fever.

Whats up? Just one of the jump balls during the Senior vs. Faculty game.

Angels appear dowsing Debbie Bowman with star dust in the talent show.

Seniors, Seniors, Seniors

''What do you think?'' asks Brad DeWitt. Dan Beiler and Robin DeWitt watch as Brad models his cap and gown.

''Expenses, Expenses!'' The Senior class splurges more money on graduation supplies.

April Showers Bring New Lockers

Improvements hit the locker room, and Shelley Metheny tries her new locker combination.

April chases the snow away
Bringing sunshine to a beautiful day.
Easter brings us much special thought
To everyone we love a lot.
Green grass appears and flowers, too,
And students are loaded with homework to do.
Spring is getting off to a beautiful start
When people do things from the heart.
Winter coats are put away
For warm weather is here to stay.

Signs of Spring brighten up the school lawn.

Selling school supplies is one of Kathy Garlock's jobs as store clerk for the week.

Early-graduate Donna Barefoot reigns over festivities as 1979 Prom Queen.

Prom 79' -A Success In Spite Of Rain

The annual Prom is held on May 12, 1979 at the McHenry House. Juniors, Seniors, and their dates prepare for the festivities with anxiety and anticipation. Finally, the awaited evening arrives. The program begins -opening speeches, pictures, buffet-style dinner, ''zany'' awards, crowning of the queen, and formal dance. At midnight, the couples go their separate way.

As Queen Donna Barefoot is presented with a dozen white Carnations tipped in blue, escort Bobby Workman looks on.

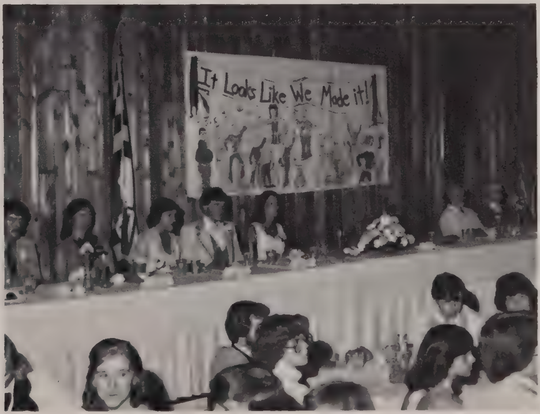
"It Looks Like We Made It"

Parent and teacher chaperones enjoy afterdinner conversation as they wait the opening of the program by M.C. Bill Bender.

Special guest of honor Mr. Keplinger receives a boutonnier in recognition of his retirement after twenty-four years of service to Northern.

Junior Class advisor Mrs. Yunker is presented a corsage by class president Randy Glotfelty in tribute to her efforts in planning the Prom.

The mural created by John Buckel and Sandi Steuber portrays the '79 Prom theme.



It Looks Like We Made it!

May Signs Of Spring Shine

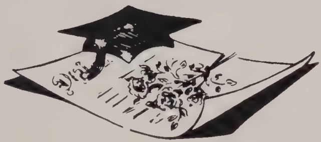
Seniors running here and there preparing for graduation and their last few days at Northern is mostly what May is about. Attention is diverted by end of year activities and sunny weather. Northern's baseball season is off to a good start as they fight for victory. Seniors are saying their last good-byes, and their last days of attending school at NHS come to an end with graduation.

Other candidates for student council listen carefully as Chris Ferree gives her speech to the student body.

Enjoying the sunny weather, Allen Turner is surprised by a roving NORTH STAR photographer.

The Class Of 1979



Graduation! Always graduation is a time of highlights. This year it is a highlight for 136 seniors. As high school seniors they march to the front of the auditorium to the strains of ''Pom and Circumstance'' played by Carol Wengerd. The same evening they become graduates and leave their high school days behind to take their own place in society. Each can look back to June 3, 1979, and remember special moments, special people, and special highlights of the day.

Coveted diploma in hand, Don Davis leaves Northern.

All seniors rise as Rev. Sadie Triplett leads a prayer.

Accomplished Seniors Recognized

''Live up to your potential'' is the theme of the I DARE YOU award presented to Jay Humberson.

A challenge to ''do your best'' is the challenge presented to Linda McKenzie as the I DARE YOU award is handed her way.

In his Validictory address to the Seniors, Daniel Beiler gives several guidelines for facing the everyday tests and quizzes of life.

The challenge to a meaningful life is presented by Jeanette Harman Durst in her Salutatory address.

Class Prayer

Dear Lord,

The time has come now in our lives to move on - - on to something greater than You have planned. You have carried us this far, Lord. Each and every step we have taken, You have been there with us to guide us and lead us. We thank You, Lord, for your love - - a love so full that it brought us through the best and worst of storms. Each mountain we have climbed, each bridge we have crossed, each dream we have climbed, each bridge we have crossed, each dream we have dreamed, You have been there with us. We ask You now, Father, to keep us in Your light, to strengthen us in all that lies ahead, and most of all, to never let our lives slip through the love of Your mighty hand.

Amen.

Class History

In our beginning it seemed that we'd never reach the prestigious point of senior high school. But as the years passed inevitably on, 1976, the year we entered senior high as sophomores, was upon us. And from there the path to graduation day accelerated . . . .

Our sophomore class officers were chosen with Dan Beiler serving as president, Tony Doerr as vice-president, Lori Taylor as secretary, and Don Davis as treasurer. The sophomore class project was to sell candy and more candy and more candy . . . Nancy Jo Durst was selected to represent our class in the Student Faculty Government, and Howard Ross was elected as the sophomore class representative to the Band Council. The Class of '79 was represented on the Drill Team by Terri Frazee, Kim Thomas, Kim Glover, Robin Edmiston, Sheila Richardson, and Donna Barefoot. Sophomore majorettes were Brenda Wakefield, Cathy Renner, and Laura Finzel. Sharon Fike, Arlene Guard and Jeanette Harman formed the sophomore unit of the colorguard squad. During football season Tom VanSickle, Neil Garlock, Larry Edgar, and Dale Carpenter shaped the sophomore quota of the team. Jim Warnick wrestled as the only sophomore on the wrestling squad, while JoAnn Weimer, Lisa Winebrenner, Janet Bach and Sharon Lipscomb played as our sophomores on the volleyball team. Basketball season began with Patty Fauber, Janet Bach, and Sandi Sisler for the girls' varsity, and Tony Doerr held up the sophomore end of boys' varsity. Phil Workman represented our class on the Husky baseball team. During the summer Nancy Rush was chosen as first runner-up in the Garrett County Farm Queen contest.

Our junior year of studies was upon us before we knew what hit us. Tony Doerr, president, Nancy Durst, vice president, Lori Taylor, secretary, and Brenda Wakefield, treasurer, were chosen as our class leaders. Tony Doerr also served as our voice to the Student Faculty Government, while Sandi Siler spoke for the juniors in Band Council. Nancy Durst, Terri Frazee, Robin DeWitt, Debbie Bowman, Sheila Richardson Brenda Sisler, co-captain and Kim Glover, co-captain, were selected from the class of '79 for the Drill Team. Sherry Griffith was chosen as the only junior on the varsity cheerleading squad. Dale Carpenter was co-captain for the annual magazine selling campaign. Brenda Wakefield was promoted to Head Majorette and Linda McKenzie and Robin Edmiston were added to the colorguard squad. Tom Vansickle, Larry Edgar, Neil Garlock, and Phil Workman played as juniors on the football team. The Volleyball juniors consisted of Patty Fauber, Janet Bach, Brenda Wagner, Lisa Winebrenner and Sharon Lipscomb. Mary Jane Reed was elected as the Junior princess for the Autumn Glory Parade with Jeff Kamp as her escort. The junior class wrestlers were Dave Rodehaver, Duane Stein and Dale Carpenter. Brad DeWitt, Ken Bowman, Phil Workman, Tony Doerr, Jeff Kamp and Dan Beiler were the junior players in varsity basketball. On the girls' side of basketball, Linda McKenzie, Kim Spear and Sandi Sisler, co-captain, were the 11th grade players. Carol Ross was chosen from our class as the Winterfest Queen at the annual Winterfest held at the Wisp. Baseball players were Brad DeWitt, Sam Huff, and Phil Workman were picked from our class. The '78 Prom, our parting gift to the seniors, was held on the 20th of May at the McHenry House where the music was provided by ''Spectrum.'' Our theme, ''Precious Reflections,'' was decorated fantastically throughout the banquet hall with the finest decorations that took long and strenuous hours of planning and labor. At the awards assembly Jeanette Harman and Howard Ross received the W.O.W. History Award, while Sandi Sisler and Dan Beiler were the first juniors to receive the ''I Dare You'' Awards. One of the juniors of our class, Larry Sisler, joined the class of '78 and graduated one year early. Various juniors attended Summer courses of advanced studies over the vacation months. Hillel Brandes studied ecological systems at Frostburg State; Howard Ross attended the Scholastic Press Workshop at the University of Maryland; Doug Bowser studied computer technology at the Allegheny Vocational Technical School and Dan Beiler represented our class at a science symposium held at the Maryland Academy of Science. Mary Sebold was a Farm Queen candidate and was chosen as first runner-up for Maryland Dairy Princess. Tony Doerr and Larry Edgar braved it out by attending Boys State.

And now we were seniors, the ultimate of ultimates . . . or so we thought. We began the ''proud'' senior year by electing the final leaders, Brenda Sisler, president, Sam Huff, vice-president, Lori Taylor, secretary, Jeanette Harman, historian, and Phil Workman, parliamentarian, for the class of '79. The committee in charge of Senior activities was Brenda Wakefield, Sherry Griffith, Sharon Lipscomb, Lisa Winebrenner, and Debbie Bowman. Donna Barefoot, Robin Edmiston, and Roger Knox advanced forward to become members of our class and to graduate early with us. Becky Harman, Kevin Margroff, Tony Doerr and Lisa Winebrenner took advantage of the Early College Admissions Program, while Phil Frantz, Nancy Durst. Carollee Orendorf and Denise Tacket attended college full-time. Various editors were chosen among the '79 ranks: Howard Ross and Chris McKenzie as co-editors of the VIKING and Jeanette Harman as Editor of THE NORTHSTAR. Dale Carpenter took the position of captain of the magazine campaign. Leading the cheerleaders were Sherry Griffith, captain, and Carol Ross, co-captain. Brenda Sisler, captain, Sheila Richardson, co-captain, Robin DeWitt, Kim Thomas and Debbie Bowman were chosen as the senior members of the Drill Team. Band Council officers were elected with Sandi Sisler as president, Linda McKenzie, treasurer, and Jay Humberson as 12th grade representative. Lori Taylor and Mary Sebold won the vote as officers of the Student Council, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Brenda Wakefield was appointed as the drum major to the marching band, while Alice Brenneman and Jim Illick attended All-State Chorus. The volleyball team was composed of Marsha Garlitz, Brenda Wagner, Lori Taylor, Patty Fauber, Sheila Richardson, Sharon Lipscomb, captain, and Patty Wiley. Duane Stein, Dale Carpenter, Jim Warnick, and Dave Rodeheaver wrestled as seniors on the team. Larry Edgar, Neil Garlock, Tom VanSickle, Brad DeWitt, and Phil Workman were appointed as seniors to the football squad. Lori Taylor was crowned as the 1979 Homecoming Queen accompanied by her court: Sheila Richardson, Brenda Sisler, Carol Ross, Brenda Wakefield, and Sharon Lipscomb. One senior football player, Phil Workman, was chosen to participate in Tri-Valley Football. Sherry Griffith became the senior maid of honor for Autumn Glory with Phil workman as her escort, while Cathy Renner became 12th grade princess. Brad DeWitt, Phil Workman, Jeff Kamp, Tony Doerr, Ken Bowman, and Dan Beiler participated in varsity basketball. Linda McKenzie, Sandi Sisler and Patty Fauber formed the seniors in girls' basketball. Sherry Griffith was chosen as the Snowball Queen at the annual dance, and Kim Frantz became Heart Fund Queen for her collections for the Heart Fund. The senior party rolled around with the theme of ''Running on Empty'' -and we were! The senior baseball players were Phil Workman, Doug Bowser, Sam Huff, and Larry Edgar. On the new girls' softball team, Brenda Sisler, Sheila Richardson, Sandi Sisler, Sharon Lipscomb, Patty Fauber, Linda McKenzie, Donna Barefoot and Donna Broadwater were the host of senior players. Phil Workman was the only athlete to letter in three sports from the senior class. Pam Butler and Karen Edmiston attended a course of advanced studies at Frostburg State for eight weeks during the school year. We topped off the year with the event of our senior prom given to us by the juniors with the theme ''Looks Like We Made It.'' The '79 Prom was held on May 12th at the McHenry House with music provided by ''Beau-Sha-Lings.'' Donna Barefoot was crowned Prom Queen and her court consisted of Lisa Winebrenner, Sharon Lipscomb, Sheila Richardson, Debbie Riley, Kim Frantz, Carol Ross, and Cathy Renner. We went through the year with an array of announcements, caps, gowns, senior keys, parties, picnics, the senior trip and more and more and yet more. We had actually lived through our hectic senior year, which we had always heard of enviously from others. But now we had experienced it ourselves. That last memory, treasured as it is, can never be taken from any of our hearts.

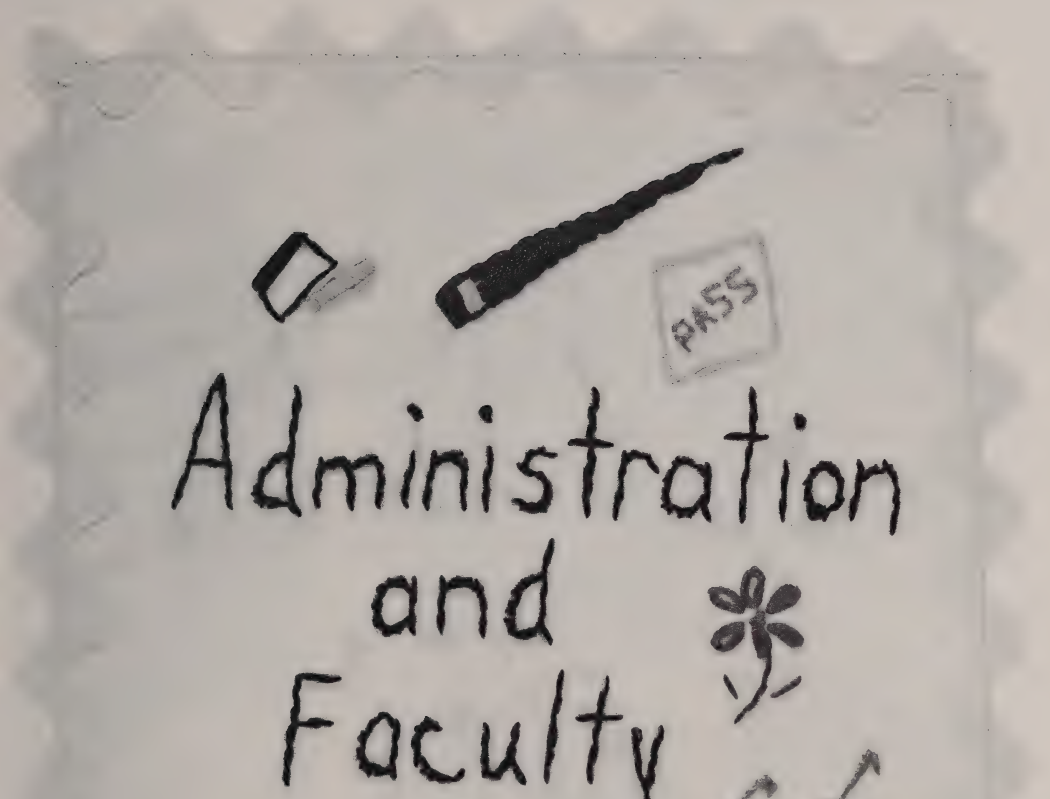
Administration and Faculty



Administration

Mr. J. Kenneth Bittinger
Principal

"Northern, like all schools, is not perfect, but it ranks high as a wholesome environment for learning."

Mr. James Thomas
Guidance Counselor

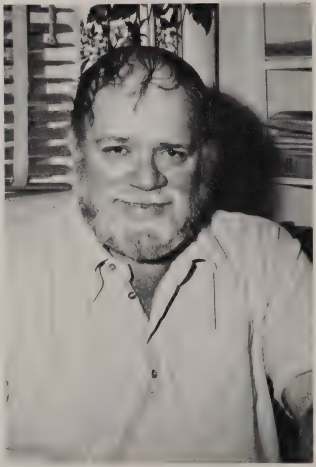
"I see Northern High School as being a rather unique high school in this day and age of unrest. Unique, in that students display a love and appreciation of the beauty of the County, are interested in their studies, are mannerly and cooperative, and show a trust and a sincere concern for the well-being of their fellow students. These qualities reflect upon concerned parents and a community where family life and the influence of the Church are still important.

Unfortunately, we do have that small percentage that takes away from the over-all good qualities of the larger student population, but it is a small percentage!

It is not a beautiful, expensive edifice that makes a great school, but rather it is a collection of GOOD, RESPONSIBLE, INDIVIDUAL STUDENTS thatmakes for a great school!"

Miss Mildred V. Wucik
Assistant Principal

"The majority of Northern students are sincere, honest, enthusiastic about life, interested in school and working for a good future, and are willing to accept the advice of others."



Mr. Jack Lear
Guidance Counselor

Teachers

Mrs. S. Lynn Brace
Math
''It's a nice place to work and I enjoy working with the students.''

Mrs. Elizabeth Deem
Math
''Northern is a very good working situation. The students, for the most part, are well-behaved and considerate. I am enjoying Northern very much.''

Mrs. Carolyn Deniker
Science
''I think most of the students at Northern are well-behaved and respectful. The smallness of the school allows a good teacher-pupil relationship which I think is essential to good learning.''

Mrs. Barbara DeWitt
Librarian
''The students at Northern are easy to work with, as compared to those in Washington area schools. The discipline problems are fewer. The teachers and students work well with what they have.''

Mr. Carroll M. Forsyth
Drafting, Building Trades
''Northern is an excellent school. It is a pleasure to work with the students at Northern High School.''

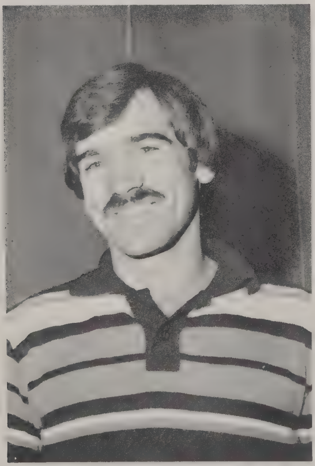
The teachers are a necessary part of the school system. They are needed to convey knowledge to students in all areas from English to Science to Music. Without teachers, the school is useless.

Teachers engage in school activities other than those required, also. They give their time to be coaches, club advisors, chaperones, and school government representatives. In and out of class, some teachers become good friends to their students. They are thought of as being more than a person who assigns homework and gives tests.

In addition, communities benefit from the work of teachers. They may be involved in town government, emergency rescue programs, social organizations, sports programs, or church activities. Teachers utilize their skills in all these areas.

In conclusion, we may say that members of Northern's teaching staff are needed in several different ways. They are useful in community as well as school. Teachers are a valuable asset.

Science Teacher Doubles As



Mr. Martin Green
Biology
''The good students outnumber the apathetic ones to such a degree as to almost hide them entirely. This is pleasant, as the reverse seems to be the rule these days.''

Mr. Harold Humberson
Trowel Trades
''Although we tend to magnify our weaknesses and our problems, I feel that Northern High School, its faculty, and its students compare favorably to others in this area.''

Miss Kathleen Hynes
Special Ed.
''The high school has plenty of potential which must be brought to surface through total cooperation of administration, faculty, and students.''

Northern's "Avon Man"

AVO
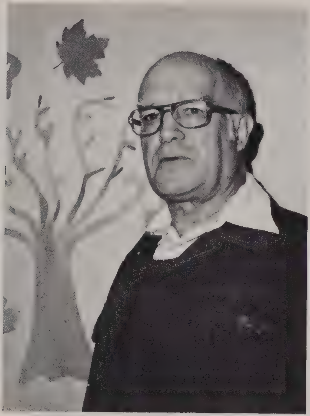
LIPS

In addition to their regular school duties, some teachers find other ways of getting acquainted with students and fellow faculty members. One teacher, Mr. Keplinger, achieves recognition by acting as Northern's ''Avon Man.'' By taking orders and making deliveries promptly, he has made the merchandise popular with many people at NHS. Here, Mrs. Yunker admires the gold bracelet and decorative bell sold at Christmastime.

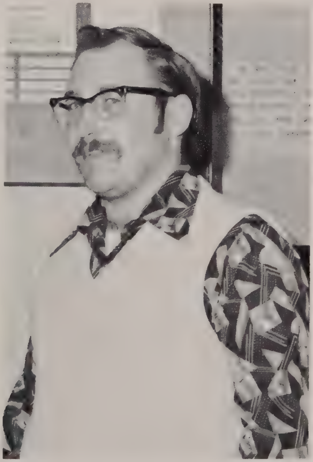


Mr. Kenneth Keplinger
Science
''During my 24 years at Northern I have enjoyed my teaching very much and have found most of the student body friendly and cooperative.''

Miss Margaret Kern
Art
''I find Northern students fun to work with--many are enthusiastic about art and that makes a pleasant environment for learning.''

Mr. Harold Loughrie
Agriculture, Horticulture
''When I discover a school student body and faculty that is better than Northern, I will go there to work.''

Mrs. Joanny Martin
Home Ec.
''I really enjoy my students and the subjects I'm teaching. One thing I do miss is a lot of school spirit by students, faculty, administration, and community.''



Mr. Clinton J. McKenzie
Social Studies
''Northern is a nice place to work and a nice group of students to work with.''

Teachers Make Good

Since we no longer have seventh and eighth grade students, more space is available for new things at Northern High. One of the spare classrooms has been turned into a teacher work room. It gives the teachers a place to eat lunch, check papers, and prepare for classes. The teachers find the work room to be a welcome addition to the school. Here, Mr. Speicher, Mrs. Martin, and Mr. McKenzie engage in a friendly chat during their lunch break.

Miss Joanna Miller
English, Journalism
''Northern students reflect the rest of society: most of the kids are average people with many good points and the usual show of problems.''

Mrs. Patricia Miller
English
''The students of Northen make this high school a nice place to be. They are generally well-behaved, and respectful people. A friendly atmosphere results.''

Mrs. Donetta Nice
Business Education
''I feel that Northern and its students offer a pleasant atmosphere for learning.''

Miss Anna Mae Norris
French, English
''The students seem very friendly and for the most part well-behaved.''

Mr. Eric Perfetti
Industrial Arts

Mr. George Schramm

"I think Northern is a good school with good students. The faculty is interested in the students getting a good education and the students are easy to get along with."

Dance Club Gives Teachers An Opportunity

Mrs. Mary Schurman
Business. Ed.
"It has always been a pleasure teaching at Northern. Especially do you find the students mannerly, courteous, and willing to learn."

Mr. Melvin Schwing
Band, Chorus
"Northern has many outstanding students but more need to be involved and develop a positive attitude toward all facets of school."

Mr. Russell J. Settle
Civics
"By being a small high school Northern provides a close student-teacher relationship."

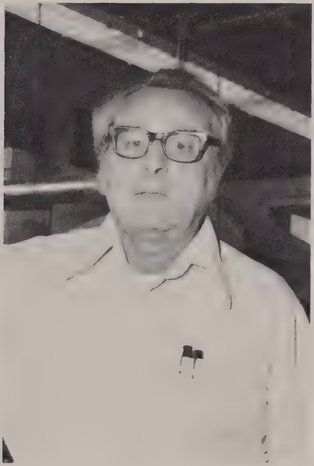
Mrs. Lucile Sines
English, Journalism
"I get a lot of students who are intelligent, conscientious and a joy to work with. These are the people I think of when I think of Northern."

Mr. Michael Sines
Driver Education
NO RESPONSE

Miss Michele Smith
Special Ed.
"This year I have the needlepoint/craft club and I work with about 20 girls. I enjoy this chance to get to know some of the students and teach them (and share with them) skills I know."

To Share Their Knowledge Of Certain Skills

Mr. Harvey Speicher
Phys. Ed.
''I feel that Northern is a very good school, but I also feel that there is a great need for the students and faculty to unite and become more supportive of extracurricular activities.''



Mr. Harold Trickett
Electronics, Residential Wiring
''Northern High offers many learning opportunities for its students, and most students follow their interests in the selection of studies.''

Many teachers undertake the task of being a club advisor. The job involves organizing club activities, handling finances, chaperoning dances, and many other things. Miss Hynes and Ms. Rettel, Dance Club advisors, help Lisa Friend to perfect a new dance step.

Injuries Plague Teachers

Some teachers are so loyal to school that they attend classes even when they are injured. When Mr. Green's ankle is hurt, he struggles to school in order to teach. Miss Kern's broken nose does not keep her home, either. Other teachers have endured bumps, bruises, and paper cuts and continued to teach. Tribute is here given to them for their bravery.

Mr. William Umbel
Math

Mr. Everett Warne
Auto Mechanics

Mr. Robert Yunker
Social Studies

Mrs. Vonda Yunker
Social Studies
''I still believe for those who truly WISH TO LEARN, Northern continues to offer the educational opportunities to meet such goals.''

Aides And Secretarial Employees

Mrs. Dorothy George
Secretary
"I feel our students are much better since we don't have the 7th and 8th graders."

Miss Jennifer Knox
Guidance Secretary
"I guess you could say that I like it here, and I find most (most, mind you) of the students make this a pleasant place."

Mrs. Betty Richter
Library Aide
"Northern is the best. Northern is doing a great job in preparing students for their future occupations and the ambitions they have in mind."

Mrs. Kathleen Wentz
Teacher Aide
"I am proud of Northern."

Secretaries and aides are needed to help keep things organized and running smoothly in the office and classrooms. One of Mrs. George's duties is to assist Miss Wucik with the many transactions that occur during each day.

The Job Gets Done

The school custodians are an important part of the school staff. They keep the building clean and make all needed repairs. Mr. Thomas and the other workers help to provide a suitable environment for students to work in.

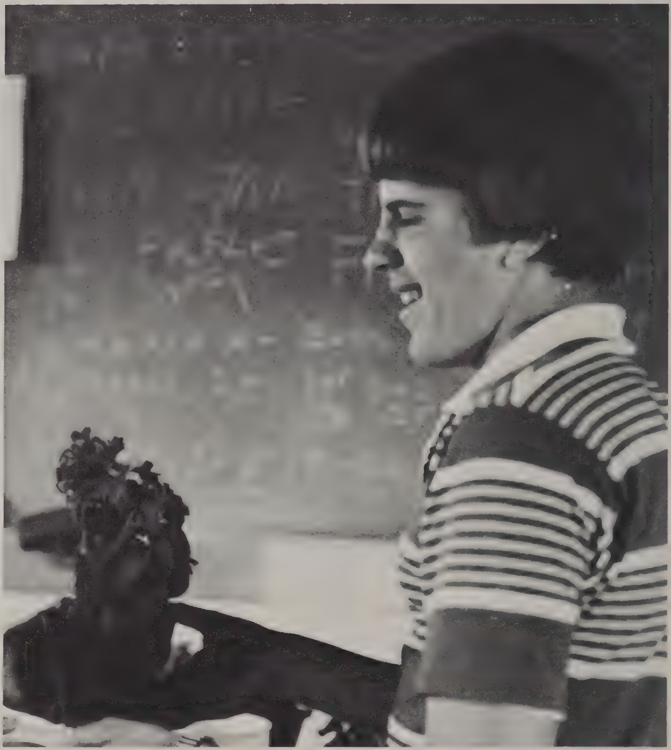
Agriculture Classes Prepare Students For

Among the twenty-four varieties of plants raised by Vo-Ag students are vegetables and flowers. Here, a bed of peppers thrives in the greenhouse.

Garrett County offers its inhabitants a wide range of job opportunities, including those in the agricultural field. The Agricultural Department prepares students for these jobs by offering courses ranging from the ninth grade Agriculture Science to Vocational Agriculture IV for juniors and seniors.



Agricultural studies provide Doug Bender with the knowledge of how to plant and take care of different varieties of plants.

Brainstorms rage on as Bob Fike, Ellsworth Merrbach, Glenda Yoder, Rodney Fike and Sam Lowermilk concentrate on book studies in Vo-Ag.

Future Responsibilities

Home Economics

Aromas of all sorts spread through the halls of N.H.S. as Home Ec. classes bake tasty pastries, such as the ''all-American'' cinnamon rolls.

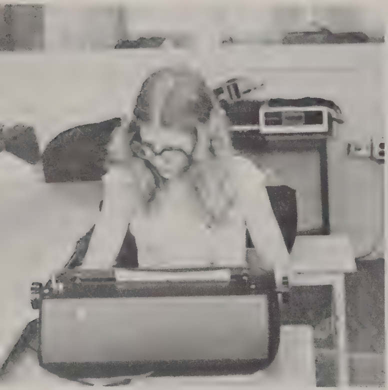
Blending colors accent the poise and style of Mrs. Martin, Home Economics teacher, as she models the colonial dress she has made.

Home economics is the study of skills essential to running a home. Extensive study is given to menu planning, consumer buying, food preparation, sewing, wardrobe evaluation, and home management. The class, open to both boys and girls, teaches students how to succeed in their future home lives.

The faculty is an important part of Northern, and to show this to members of the faculty, Donna Davis, Mary Sebold, and Patty Collins, with the help of other students in the Home Ec. Dept, hold a Christmas tea for all faculty members.

Business Courses

Individualized Attention



Typing skills are important for almost every student, whether in business or in college. Kim Thomas improves her typing skill by typing on an IBM Selectric.

Business Courses prepare students for requirements in various careers. Skills such as typing, shorthand and recordkeeping better one's chances of getting a job in the clerical field.

Through working in their recordkeeping workborks, Sandy Bowman, Karlinda Engle and Chris Ferree gain knowledge on procedures of the business world.

Life in a business course is demanding, but Dale Carpenter gains practical experience by making out sales slips.

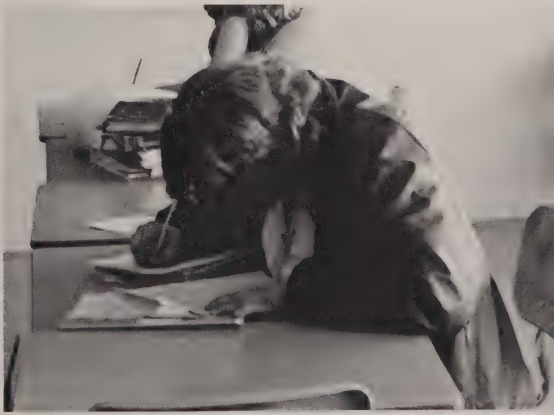
Special Education

Taking advantage of the night tutoring program, Bryon Smoot receives help from Miss Hynes.

Math is always a difficult subject. In Special Ed., however, Doug Redmond and Philip Pope work at their own level and speed to conquer the complexities of math problems.

In the self-contained classroom, students remain with Miss Smith and Mrs. Wentz for all classes except for art, industrial arts, and in some cases, phys. ed. Miss Smith concentrates on skills students will need to function sucessfully in society. Miss Hynes teaches students who are below expected grade level in one or more academic skills. The student attends class for one period in Miss Hynes' room, studying under a special program designed for his needs. In addition to these daily classes, the Board of Education is now sponsoring a night tutoring program.

In the Special Ed. Department, Terri Miller receives individual aid and instruction in her studies.



History And Social Science

U.S. History students discover how past mistakes and accomplishments affect our lives today. Denise Ringer studies the 1960's by taking notes from her textbook.

History students acquire knowledge about various aspects of human life, both past and present. These courses involve not only the study of historical events, but also the study of people involved in these events. Sociology, Human Dynamics, and P.O.D. delve more

Real-life situations bring realization to P.O.D. classes as bailiff Carol Ross swears in Robin Edmiston in a mock trial.

Courses Increase Awareness

Civics classes gain a better understanding of our democratic government and how it operates under the instruction of Mr. Settle.

One section of P.O.D. class deals with the study of dating and marriage. Larry Hanlin and Arlene Guard discover how well they know each other in a Newlywed Game staged during class.

deeply into the reasons behind human behavior. Through these courses, students come to a deeper understanding of themselves and the people around them. These understandings provide a means for individuals to improve their relations with others.

P.O.D. students find that there is a right and a wrong way to act in job interviews as Joyce Thomas demonstrates how NOT to act.

Vo-Tech Courses

Drafting I student Randy Glotfelty makes use of fundamental skills acquired in math classes as he sketches original house plans.

After taking classes in any area of the Vocational Department, a student may be well prepared to go on to college and take advanced courses. He can also go directly into the field of work for which he has trained.

The Electronics curriculum challenges the technical portion of Urbane Maust's mind as he concentrates on assembling the Elks II Computer.

Auto Mechanics enables students to learn and practice manual as well as mental skills. Here, Steve Taylor evaluates the engine's problem before starting repairs.

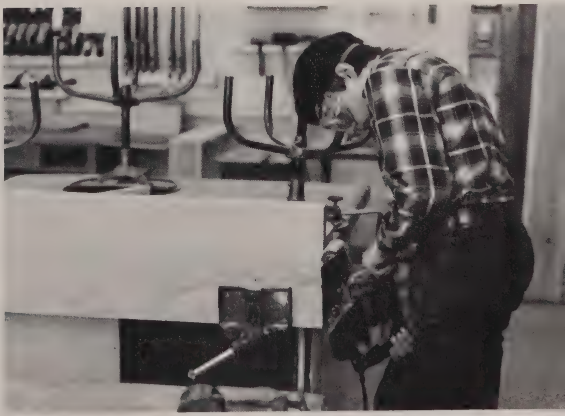
Improve Manual Skills

A table saw provides Joe Habel with the necessary means to size a board to its required measurements.

Trowel Trades, a new addition to the Vocational Department, provides Richard Broadwater and Luther Huff the opportunity to learn brick-laying.

Each year the Vo-tech Department improves either by the addition of a new class or new equipment. This year's addition is Trowel Trades, a course in bricklaying.

Smoothing down the rough edges is part of good workworking technique. Phil Smith sands the ends of a 1'' x 12'' as a precautionary measure against scrapes and splinters.



Journalism

Language Arts Department

Production of the annual yearbook involves hours of hard work. Planning layouts, writing captions, and cropping pictures compose only a fraction of the job facing the NORTH STAR staff. Henry Wilson struggles to perfect the layout design as he transfers it to a 3-R form.

Journalism I students cover all facets of school life and publish a newspaper. The VIKING is filled with community and school news, sports, editorials, surveys, and other interesting features. Co-editor Chris McKenzie prepares materials to be utilized in the next issues.

Creativity plays an important part in the designing of the new NORTH STAR. Embroidered by Linda Rodeheaver, this quilt, through a special photographic process, appears on the '78-'79 cover.

Utilizes Various Skills

English Department

English classes can be more than just writing compositions and studying grammar. A puppet show illustrates ancient witch-dunking procedures.

No, you're not seeing things. It's really Sherlock Holmes brought back to life by Fred Fox for the French I Mardi Gras celebration.

The Language Arts Department consists of the study of English and French. English classes study all types of literature, grammar, and composition. Mini courses include Independent Reading, Cloak and Dagger, Man Against Himself, and Thanatology. French classes learn to read and speak the language and study about French culture.

Certain individuals have special features about them which distinguish them from all others. In Ms. Rettel's English class, Nancy Rush poses as Dolly Parton's sister.

Science Curriculum Requires

In Health class Patty Durst and Charlotte Uphold learn about the major problems of drugs, smoking and alcohol which affect young teens in our modern society.

The Science Department offers classes ranging from general science to such advanced courses as physics and chemistry. This gives students an opportunity to receive the background in science which will benefit them most after graduation from high school.

A biology student can find answers to many questions about human problems through the study of animals. Mr. Green explains how deformities of this piglet resemble those of a human.

Strange creatures can be found lurking in the Science Department. Sally, the baby iguana, relaxes after feeding on leaves and fruit.

Careful Reasoning

Mathematics

Algebra II involves an advanced study of basic algebraic facts. Pat Sines strives to conquer the complexities of the course.

Trying to learn from past mistakes, Algebra II students Judi Bashore, Connie Schroyer, and Mark Diehl look over graded tests.

Students find a wide selection of courses available in the Math Department. From General Math to Advanced Math/Trigonometry, a student can choose which class will best fit his needs.

Various mathematical tools are essential in completing geometry assignments. Terry Edgar uses a protracter to measure angles on a unit test.

Classes Utilize

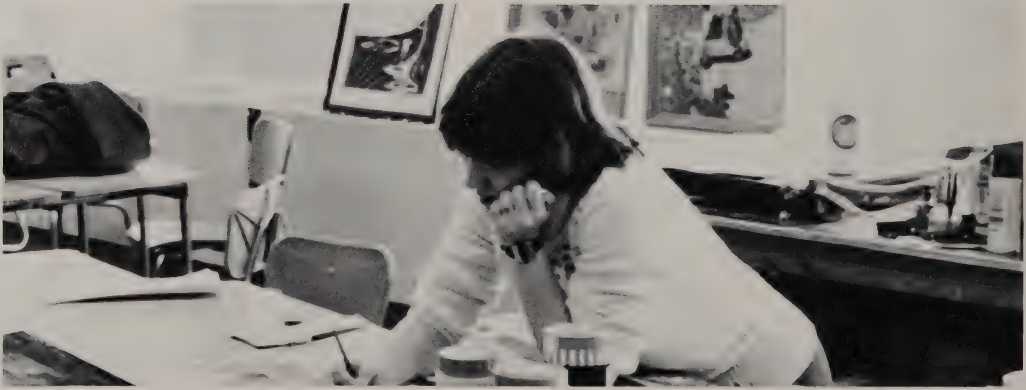
The long-awaited spring flowers bloom in Room 222 as Doris Rodeheaver, Sherry Beitzel, and Tina Frazee paint floral designs.

Art

Art classes receive a new teacher with new ideas. Miss Kern gives students a variety of projects and assignments, including artist research, quilling, painting, sketching, drawing, string art, and wood-carving. Art classes also cover the modern arts such as dancing, music, and movies. Broadening year by year, the art department offers basic art, art history, advanced art, and intermediate art.

Artistic talent shines through as John Buckel creates a masterpiece.

Advanced Art student Lisa Winebrenner concentrates on Painting with acrylics as she designs her vision of Gandalf from THE LORD OF THE RINGS.

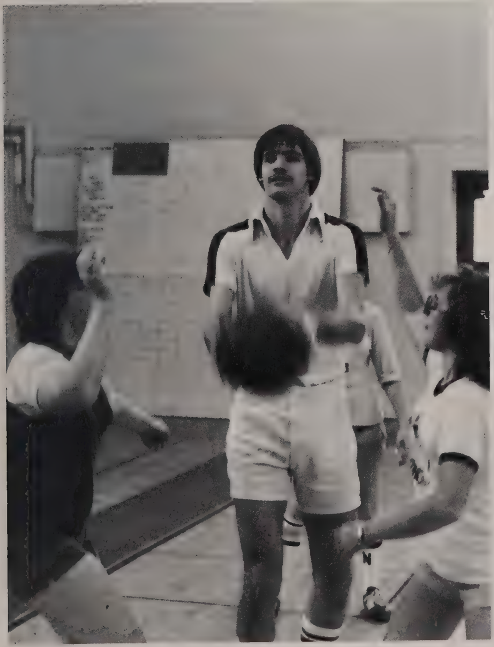


Physical Skills

Phys: Ed.

Student teacher Mike Saturday gains experience and useful skills for his future teaching career as he assists in a fast-paced game of basketball.

Skill is the name of the game Neil Garlock plays as he spikes the ball to the opposing team to regain posession of the serve.



Students find fun and relaxation waiting for them when they report to Phys. Ed.. By participating in sports such as volleyball, ping-pong, and badminton, students are able to forget about the trials of their academic studies. Phys. Ed. provides the students with the skills to enjoy friendly competition in sports.

Fourth period Phys. Ed. students find time to relax as their classmates participate in a vigorous game of volleyball.

Music

Performing Arts

In order to get better accustomed to accoustics on the stage, Sr. Chorus members rehearse for their spring program.

The Music Dept. is composed of two different areas, band and chorus. Presently, Mr. Schwing is serving as director of both. Throughout the year, the band and chorus perform for the student body at special programs, graduation, and athletic events.

Northern's band participates in many area events. Here, they present a Veterans' Day program in front of the school.

A competent pianist is needed for successful choral programs. Assisted by Linda Beitzel, Angie Zehr accompanies the vocalists during rehearsal.

Enrich Students' Life

Drama

In a comical scene from ''West Side Story,'' Joyce Thomas, as Maria, and Ginny Holiday, as Anita, act in full attire.

Acting in a scene from ''West Side Story,'' Barb DeWitt and Henry Wilson make wedding plans. Other drama students act as mannequins in a bridal shop.

Drama class is open to students in grades 10 through 12. Each student can test his acting ability and at the same time learn about stage productions, set construction, and above all, the hard work that goes into dramatic productions.

Drama students Brenda Sisler and Sheila Richardson present a one-act play entitled ''Death Knock.'' Brenda plays a wealthy young woman and Sheila portrays death that has come to take her away.

Phil Workman, one of the few seniors on the team this year, gives us his views of this season.

''The 1978-79 football season was rewarding to me, even though the season had its ups and downs.

''This Husky season was a time of rebuilding to next year, because there were only five seniors on the squad. We were considered a young team by the fans around the area.

''A lot of pride and head work each day led to a good sportsman-like attitude in accepting the losses which the team suffered.

''I feel that Coach Settle got very close to the players this year, more so than last year, because that was his first year of coaching. Coach McKenzie works the players very hard and expects of the team 100% effort when they are practicing and playing in a game.

''Despite the 1-9 record and a tough schedule, Northern had a lot of talent in its line-up, which resulted in some close games.''

The Huskies tough line gave Gary Baumann plenty of time to make the field goal against Bruce High School.

A good passing attack gives Northern an edge over Central Preston. Here Darrel Schrock stretches for a reception.

Failure to complete a sweep by Galen Kamp contributes to a losing effort against Southern.

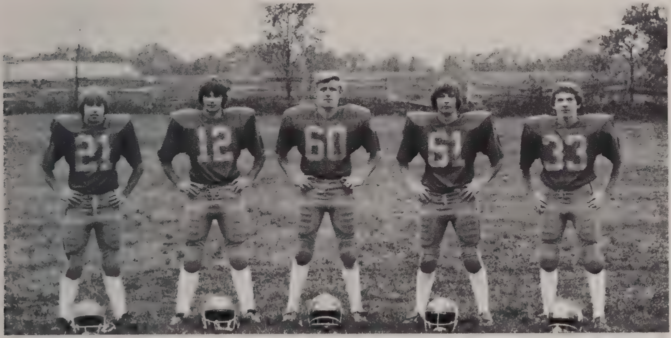
The rest of the defense closes in as Galen Kamp (#32) bulls into the Valley ball carrier.

Galen Kamp and several other Huskies combine their efforts to bring down Mike Lewis.

Line men take the blows and receive little of the glory. This head-on collision between Bill Wilt and a Valley line man is typical.



Larry Edgar, Phil Workman, Tom VanSickle, Neil Garlock, and Brad DeWitt serve their last year as seniors on the squad.

Gang tackling is an effective way of stopping the opposing running back. Here Jeff Rhodes (#14) is buried by the Huskie defense.

Tense and expectant, each member of the team waits, ready to return the serve.

Volleyball Team Gains County Championship

"Girls volleyball has become a popular sport at Northern. Long hours of practice and hard work combine and become the element of winning and capturing the county trophy. This is the high point of the season and all the practice is paying off. All the games are important to the team, and great effort is put forth to prove this will to win.

Much spirit is behind the team. Only one match is played at home, and that with Southern. Spectators back up the team with their spirit and support. Northerners can be proud of their girls volleyball squad as they finish the season with a record of 9-12."

Coach Speicher intensely watches his team's positioning on court.

''I think everyone on the team this year, including Coach Speicher, had big expectations for this season. We had three starters returning from last year and six of our ten players were seniors. This gave us a strong bench with two or three players able to fill in at each position.

The close competition against Southern is not only the concern of players on the court, but also of the players on the bench.

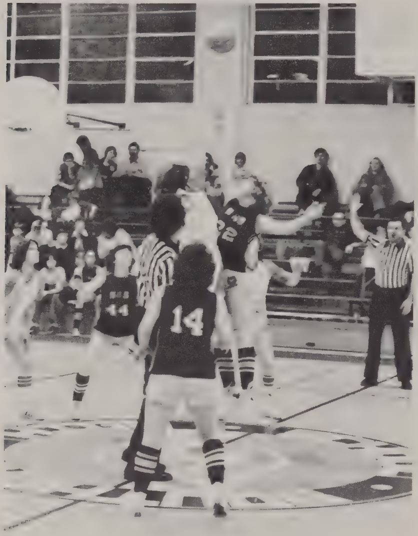
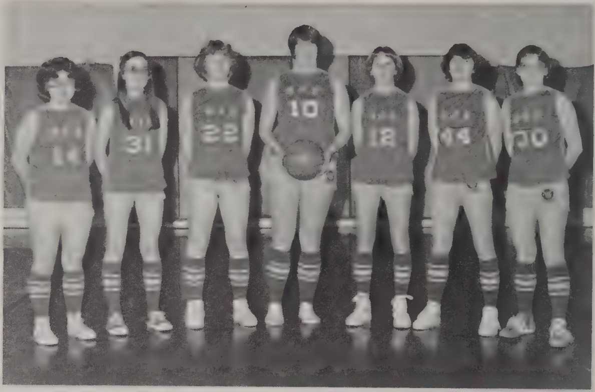
New Coach Brings Enthusiasm

Penetrating Southern's defense, Sandi Sisler drives toward the bucket.

Closely watching his team, Coach Helmick informs his players as Assistant Coach Gale Wengard looks on.





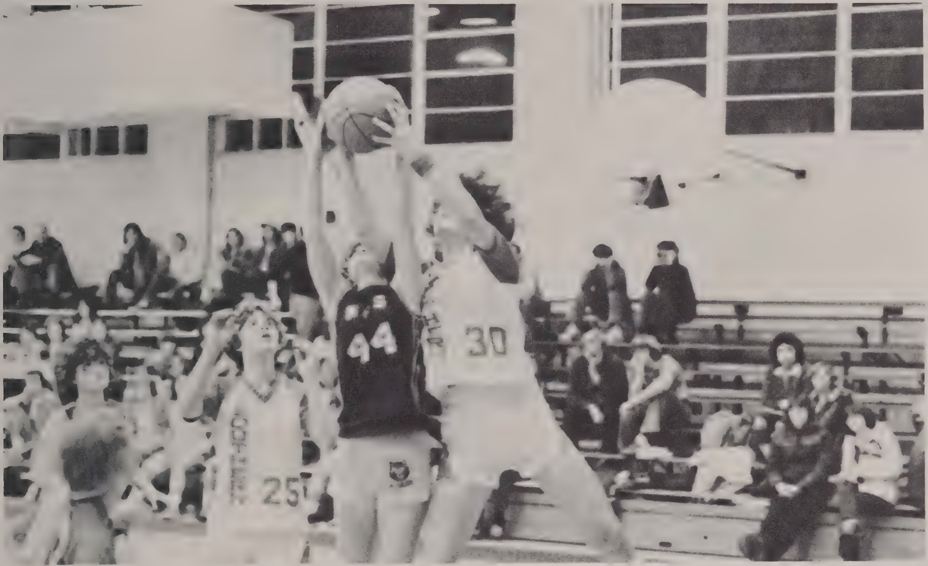
Linda McKenzie, Tammie McKenzie, Patty Fauber, Carol Wengerd, Donna Ringer, Sandi Sisler, Patty Durst

The beginning to the season found us with four returning players, three seniors, and one junior. Mostly a young team with very little playing experience, we also have a new coach, John Helmick, who holds great expectations for our team this year. He teaches us an entirely new defense and offense. A full court press is also put into action, something the girls team hasn't done in the last few years.

Stretching high in an attempt to take the tip from Southern's taller Bonnie Early, Patty Fauber comes up inches short.

Blocking out their Southern opponents, Carol Wengerd and Sani Sisler scrap for the rebound.

Though the girls are behind, Sandi Sisler shows some of the team determination as she inbounds the ball.



Sandi Sisler strains to pull down a rebound from her much taller opponent.

Girls Show Improvement Despite Losing Record

''To build us into better players Mr. Settle agreed to let the ninth grade boys scrimmage agenst us every Tuesday and Friday night at practice. Though they knocked us around a little bit, the result was more agressive girls.

Many tears were shed throughout the season from every player. Some were tears of joy, such as after our first victory over Flintstone. Others were tears of sorrow, when our press didn't work against Southern.

Every girl improved in some way over the season so much that our coach could not name one most improved player. Though we only won 3 of 13 games, every member of the Varsity Girls Basketball team had something to be proud of - improvement.''

Popularity Grows As Honors Are Reached

''The Northern Wrestlers excelled in their field this year by winning all but two matches. I felt that it was a great privilege and a rewarding experience to have been on the squad. It was very memorable for me because of all the enthusiasm and hard work that brought us a victorious season.

The wrestlers worked hard, practiced every night, and some had to fight too make weight. They knew that the only person who could win the match was themselves and they worked hard to do that.

I am looking forward to next year and another great season.''

The 1979 Baseball Season did not turn out as well as was expected. The Huskies compiled a 6-10 record which was enhanced by a victory over the Beall Mountaineers, one of the strongest competitors in the Class ''C'' region.

Making up the team were quite a few juniors, but only four seniors. For this reason, one can state that it was more of a ''get used to playing'' year. Now, with at least one year of experience to back them up, next year's squad looks strong and competitive. As a matter of fact, the future years look well balanced as far as the team is concerned, for many freshmen and sophomores participated through out the previous season. The Husky baseball team was young this year, but has the future makings of an unbeatable ball club.

Darrel Schrock, Greg Beachy, Phil Workman, and Bill Bender provided the punch for the '79 squad. Schrock pitched a no hitter against Bruce which helped Northern gain a step in the Class ''C'' ratings. Greg Beachy helped by playing a strong defensive game at shortstop. Workman and Bender were versatile players, each playing one of three positions. Bender led the team in hitting with a .500 seasonal average and 19 runs batted in. Even though these young lmen are mentioned, one must keep in mind that without the aid of each individual, there would not be such a thing as a baseball team.

Consequently, the record of the team was not on the winning side, but one should remember that many good points were taught and learned. Northern Baseball will be returning next year attempting to carry out the winning tradition.

. . . And What Is

One of the major advantages, as I see it, is that students are better grouped so far as age is concerned. A wide gap exists between seventh graders, who are still very immature in their thinking, interests, etc., and twelfth graders. The middle school helps to eliminate this. I would imagine that the current eighth graders are placed at a disadvantage in that they have moved from Northern to the middle school, and now back to Northern.

Pat Miller

Because of the middle school, Northern is less crowded. I think the middle school will do the sixth, seventh, and eighth graders a lot of good, because now they are not thrown into a big school not knowing really how to act. The middle school gives them the satisfaction of having a school all to themselves, not having to be shared with older, more advanced students. The sixth, seventh, and eighth graders, with a school of their own, can learn the basic ways a high school is run, while being with students their own age.

Shelly King

I have always felt that seventh and eighth graders should not be with high school students. They need to mature a little before they are all together. Yet, I think they should not be with the smaller children either. The middle school is the answer.

Dorothy George

Your Opinion? . . .

The middle school will make it easier for kids to change surroundings instead of the complete change from grade school to high school. Some of the advantages are, naturally, space. The middle school also provides tennis courts for recreation, and the gym provides the needed space for the athletic teams.

Fred Fox

The new building allows for more diversification in the instruction program. It also allows students to develop more social skills within their own age reference groups. I think the opening of the middle school was a good move. It allows students at the same maturity level to associate more freely. Having seventh graders in with the seniors created problems. The middle school has alleviated this.

Robert Yunker

I think most of the teachers and students are glad that the seventh and eighth graders are in another school. I don't think it should have been built open space. Most of the kids don't like being able to hear other classes. It makes it harder to concentrate on their classes.

Elizabeth Hanft

The Progress Continues

The middle school has been met by both openarmed acceptance and harsh ridicule. But whatever the opinion, the middle school concept of learning can only be successful if all involved, teachers, students, parents, and community alike, work at it. And so the educational progress within Garrett County continues with the ultimate goal being a higher level of learning.
